

CHAPTER III

SECTION 4. RIGHTS, DUTIES AND ETHICS

academic freedom. This principle acknowledges the right of a teacher to express his or her views on any subject as he or she believes to be true. It also recognizes the academic staff's right to speak or write by a

